A wardrobe characterises its owner! Let us look at some wardrobes that hold Sarees, Salwars and Kurtis. Any similarity to yours is completely unintended!

Warzone

You have umpteen Sarees, Salwars and Kurtis in a mix thrown around. Except, when you want to pick something to wear, rather than being spoilt for choice, you go into a state of agony. Keep your clothes organised by occasion (casuals separated to party wear) and seasons (cotton sarees and kurtis for summer).

School zone

You have the same-style Cotton Sarees in your favourite color resembling school uniforms. It is time to rejuvenate your wardrobe with trends, material variation and colors. Recycling is permitted – the designer Salwar from last Spring can be worn this Spring too!

Warehouse

Medium size suits you for Salwars. In a particular instance, you do like the Salwar but it is available only in X-Large size. You don't have to pass it – instead, ensure that it can be altered to your size.

Worn-robe

For your Designer Saree, the wash care is to dry-clean. If you throw that into your washing machine accidentally, you can write it off. Quality Sarees and Salwars need not always be expensive; the secret for longevity is to follow the wash care notes studiously.

If you follow such simple guidelines, you do not have to spend lots of time in organising your wardrobe! Why don't you give it a try?

Vasthara Silk offers traditional Silk Sarees, trendy Bollywood Sarees, colorful Party Sarees, Casual Sarees; in addition, you have Designer Salwars, Cotton suits, casual and trendy Kurtis! Come, celebrate with us and be the proud owner of your Wardrobe Empire!
